

Long Beach Seafood Restaurant

Empurau — found only in Sarawak, Malaysia — is one of the most expensive, if not priciest, fish to be served to diners at this award-winning restaurant.

The rare breed feeds on fruit that hang over the rivers by leaping out of the water. It is served Hong Kong style — steamed, with a mixture of Chinese seasoning in a superior soya sauce ($288 per kg). Chomp on the lamb ribs too, succulent with Italian herbs for a fresh zest ($28.80 per slab). Tel: 6445-8833. Website: www.longbeachseafood.com.sg. E-mail: one@longbeachseafood.com.sg
